Various Places Around The Magazine

Hey, Gang! In this space that's left here, we could tell you about MAD's new schedule (which you've probably noticed) of eight issues a year instead of six, which means we're on sale more often than we used to be. Or we could tell you about our plans to offer a "MAD Item of the Issue" on the inside back cover periodically, starting with this issue. Or we could tell you about our current sale of over 1,000,000 copies per issue, and thank you for our success. We could tell you about all these vital things, but there's not that much space! —ALF

VITAL FEATURES

"WORSTS" OF 1958 2

Many people may be called on the carpet for MAD's "Worst" of '58 awards. We hope it's not the Dean's carpet for 12 collegians.

BODY-BUILDING 6

This article is dedicated to that tight little knot of muscle-bound clods who impress us on beaches by kicking sand in our faces.

GUIDE FOR NOVICE DRIVERS 14

An article which teaches the novice driver how to avoid accidents and stay alive with so many cars on the road. Mainly, walk!

GEO. WASHINGTON AD AGENCY 20

If "truthful" George were alive today, he'd find it rough working on Madison Avenue, where nobody ever makes an "honest" living!

TATTOOING 30

Your MAD editors revive an ancient art by modernizing tattoo designs. Now that we've got 'em, tell us how we get rid of 'em!

TV COMMERCIALS 34

We propose that sponsors tailor TV ads to appeal to the viewer's mood as he watches particular shows by continuing his nausea.

BUSINESS VALENTINES 38

MAD suggests a soft-sell technique for merchants who agree that "love of money" is what makes the business world go 'round.

GOOK 41

In preparing this satire of a popular magazine, we visited several used book shops, mentioned MAD, and got plenty of dirty Looks.

AN IMPARTIAL PANEL OF JUDGES, CONSISTING OF EDITORS THE FIRST ANNUAL "WORST"

Since this is the time of year when they start giving out awards for the "best" of 1958 in various categories, MAD decided to counteract this nausea by giving out awards to the "worst" of 1958 in various categories. Questionnaires

"WORST" NOVEL OF THE YEAR

On The Road

Jack Kerouac's book was a sick example of how the other half (the half-baked half) lives. It became the bible of the "Beat Generation," a group of idiots who stay up all night listening to jazz records and poetry. As these cats never get any sleep, you can guess why they're "beat."

"WORST" TV COMMERCIAL

Zest Soap

The Zest Soap commercial on TV presented refreshing views of young girls dropping into slimy swamp pools and rolling over in seaweed-clogged ocean spume, and then blatantly insulted viewers by claiming they'd been filthy all their lives, and would stay that way unless they used Zest.

"WORST" MOTION PICTURE

I Was A Teenage Werewolf

With movie box-office receipts sagging, one Hollywood company figured they couldn't go wrong by combining two sure-fire sales gimmicks: "teen-age" and "horror." The results of this brainstorm, "I Was a Teen-Age Werewolf," not only sickened teen-agers, it was a horror any way you look at it.

"WORST" SINGLE TV SHOW

Hans Brinker

Hans Brinker, a pratt-fall heard 'round the video world, was the thaw spot on the TV dial as Tab Hunter and Peggy King fought to climb out of a deep freeze and warm up to their parts. Lyrics almost had music, and vice versa. Olympic Star Dick Button barely emerged as the only good skate.

"WORST" DESIGNED CAR

The Edsel

The Edsel, Ford Motor Company's new addition to its line, made its bow in 1958, and promptly fell on its face. Descriptions of the radical new departure in front-end designs varied from: "An Oldsmobile sucking a lemon" to many more colorful, in fact too colorful, to put into print.

"WORST" NATIONAL FAD

Hula Hoops

The Hula Hoop fad was accepted by millions of American parents, the very same people who were so shocked, and who shrieked and screamed objections to the sexy gyrations of Elvis Presley. Now they smiled proudly as the kids spun hoops with contortions far worse than Elvis ever performed.

OF 12 LEADING COLLEGE HUMOR MAGAZINES, HAVE CHOSEN MAD AWARDS FOR OF 1958

listing these categories were sent to the twelve college humor magazine editors shown above, and the "winners" are listed below. We plan to make these "Worst" of the Year awards annually from here on...if we're not sued first!

"WORST" RADIO COMMERCIAL

Pepsi-Cola

Time was when a soft drink pitch was a cool invitation to shorten the distance between your gullet and your thirst. All it did then was hit the spot. Now it is supposed to make you sociable and smart and well-dressed and elegant and poised and like that... provided you suppress that burp!

"WORST" MAGAZINE AD

Maidenform Bras

Almost everyone has that secret fear of suddenly being stripped naked in public. The Maidenform people played this phobia to the hilt again last year by filling magazines with ads promising if and when this happens, gals who are wearing their product will be delighted to have it happen.

"WORST" REGULAR TV SHOW

The Price Is Right

Not the thirst for "knowledge," but the thirst for "things" was the main theme of this TV show which never even tried to hide its appeal to America's worship of the materialistic. Questions used on this program had to be authenticated by The National Association of Manufacturers.

"WORST" SINGLE RECORDING

Witch Doctor

We got a feeling as we listened to Witch Doctor that it wasn't a musician who composed it, but a little wax image of the guy all stuck full of pins! And lyrics like "Oooh - eeeh - oooh - aah - ah!" certainly convinced us! It got popular because kids just don't know Voodoo "rite" from "wrong."

"WORST" NEW PRODUCT

Stripe Toothpaste

Stripe Toothpaste marks a great step forward in America's march of progress. Although stripes on toothpaste may not contribute much toward cleaner teeth, such innovations do pave the way for other significant products like checkerboard halvah, polka-dot pizzas, and mainly green profits.

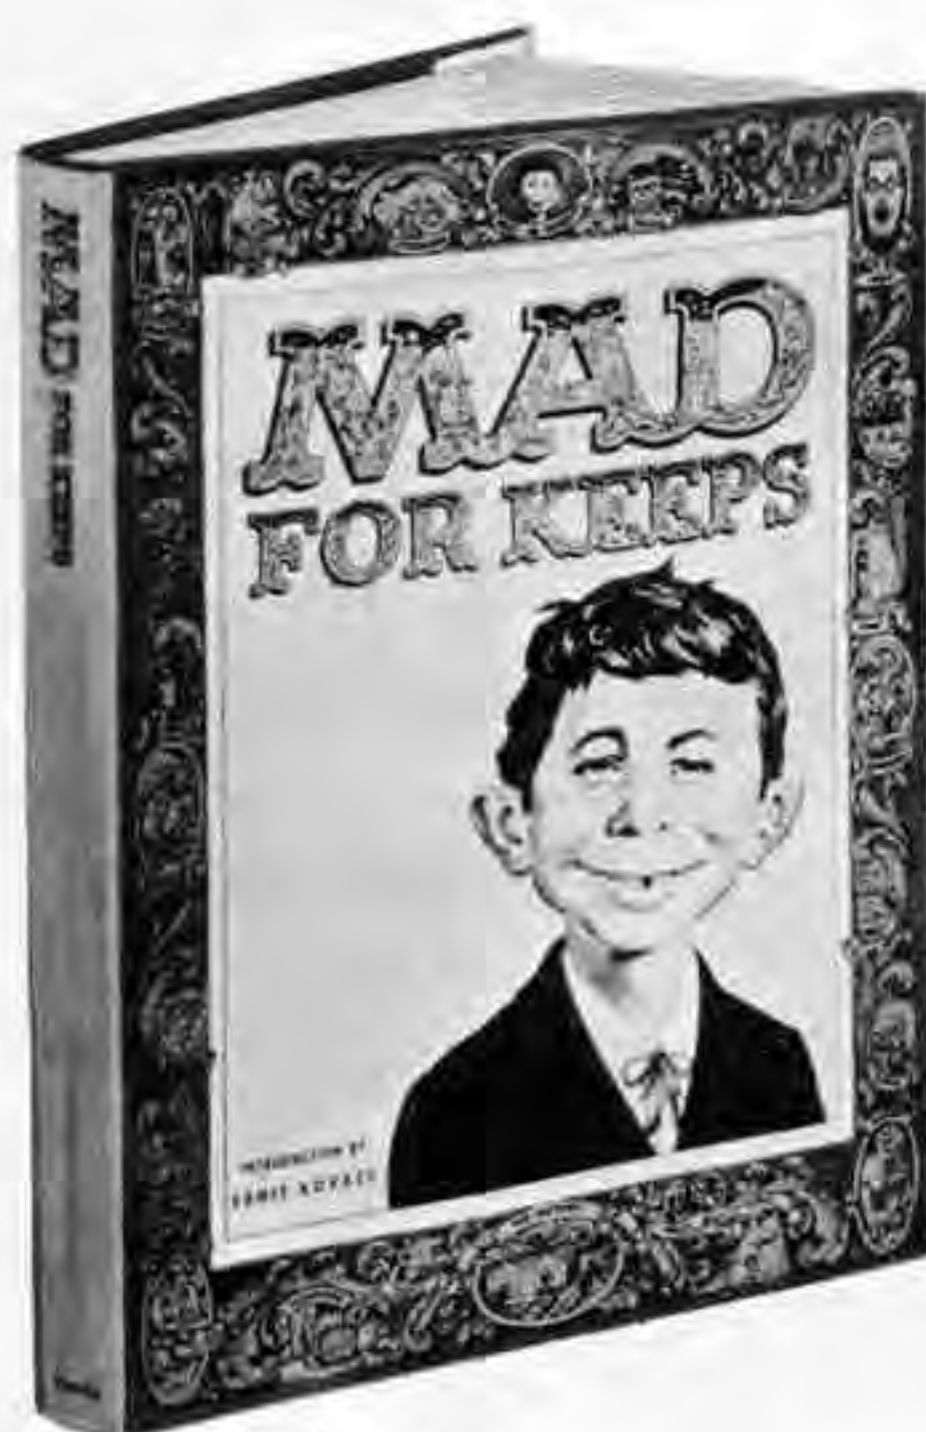

"WORST" NATIONAL MAGAZINE

MAD Magazine

The voting on this category was almost unanimous, which clearly indicates that these awards are just in the spirit of good fun. Why, it's so obvious that MAD isn't really the worst magazine of the year. All you have to do is look at a newsstand and... if you think about it... hmmm!

AMERICA'S NUMBER ONE BEST-SELLER IS

☐ True ☐ False

Any dope knows this statement is false! Our hard-cover de-luxe Anthology of the best from MAD contains 128 pages of riotous material (many in vivid color) that originally appeared in the magazine through 1956, and is unavailable in any other form. And when you get right down to it, how could a book of material like that ever hope to become a best-seller? So, if you like rare books, get a copy!

THE PAT BOONE SHOW

Just caught the premier of The Pat Boone Show, in which he mentioned that one of his great accomplishments this year was "making MAD Magazines."

Jim McPherson
Millbrae, Calif.

One of MAD's great accomplishments this year was making The Pat Boone Show!—Ed.

POETRY

Congratulations on "MAD's Treasury of Unknown Poetry," and especially to the poem, "Garbage Fever" which I enjoyed immensely. Apparently, my English teacher reads MAD, because the other day he gave the class a poem to memorize which is an unmistakable satire of "Garbage Fever." Only thing is he called it "Sea Fever" and changed the name of the poet to "Masefield." Boy, how corny can you get!

Stephen Waldman
Brooklyn, N. Y.

CRUELTY

I am disgusted! While hiking along the Appalachian Trail, my pack ripped open, mice got into my food, and worst of all, a black bear walked off with my MAD. It's bad enough when you corrupt the minds of human beings, but when you start on poor dumb animals...well, it's time someone reported you to the Humane Society!

K. S. Marshall

IMITATORS

How can you seriously be concerned about your (you should pardon the expression) imitators, when MAD is the only magazine of its type mentioned in Dr. Bergen Evans' book, "A Dictionary of Contemporary American Usage," where, on page 102 it says "...and no criticism of the language of the comics can be made more trenchant than that which fills each issue of MAD..."

John E. LeFrançois

Is that good or bad?—Ed.

SAT EVE POST ARTICLE

The article on humor in America in The Saturday Evening Post, by Corey Ford, neglected to mention the greatest humor magazine of them all, namely MAD. What happened? Were they sore at you for doing a parody of their magazine a while back?

Thank you for enclosing sample copies of MAD. I only regret that I hadn't seen them in time to include the name of the magazine in the article. BODY-BUILDING AND

BODY-BUILDING AND WEIGHT-LIFTING PRODUCES EXTRAORDINARY PHYSICAL SPECIMENS

The man pictured here is Gus Clutz, undoubtedly the world's most extraordinary physical specimen. Through diligent exercising, Gus managed to develop and bring into full bloom every single muscle in his body. Scientists, doctors, and physical-culturists from all over the world have come to admire Gus, to examine and analyze him . . . not because this is the first time anyone has ever developed such perfect muscles, but because Gus has developed all these muscles in the wrong places! Please note that this is not an anatomical drawing of Gus's muscles underneath his skin. This is a drawing of Gus's muscles on top of his skin. ND WEIGHT-LIFTING

ADVANTAGES OF A WELL-BUILT BODY IN DAILY LIFE

The purpose of Body-Building and Weight-Lifting is not to attain a gorgeous physique merely so you can admire it in the mirror while running your hands lovingly over each delightfully pulsating muscle . . . nor is it merely so you can go down to the beach and kick sand in that skinny guy's face and embarrass him in front of his girl. Actually, a well-built body is a vital asset in every daily activity.

.. "To be, or not to be, that is the question!"—JACK BARRY & DAN ENRIGHT

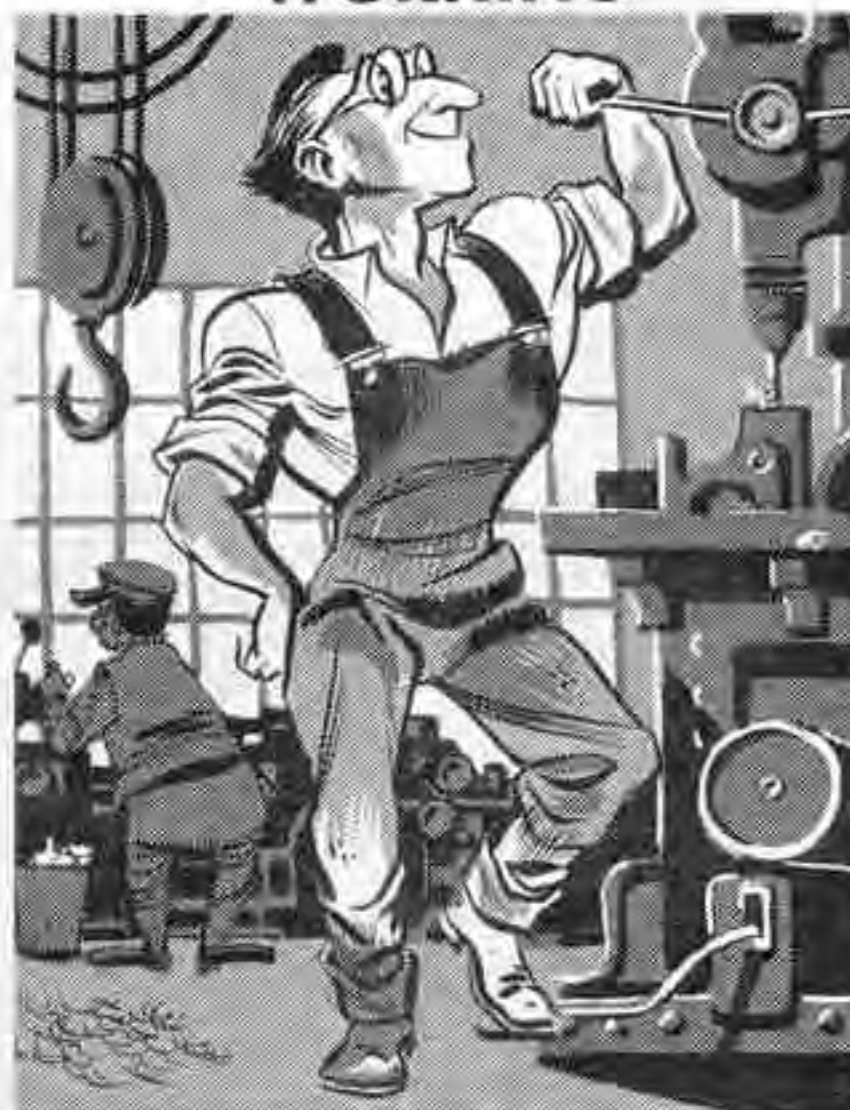

COMMUTING

WORKING

A good physique performs well when you have to work in a busy factory.

EATING

RESTING

A good physique relaxes as well as anything so musclebound can relax.

SPECIAL EXERCISES FOR DEVELOPING SPECIFIC MUSCLES

Every Body-Building and Weight-Lifting enthusiast knows that there is a special exercise designed to develop each specific muscle in the body. Here is a demonstration of a special exercise designed to develop a specific muscle.

Start to develop shoulder muscles.

Step 1 ...

Step 2 ...

Step 3 ...

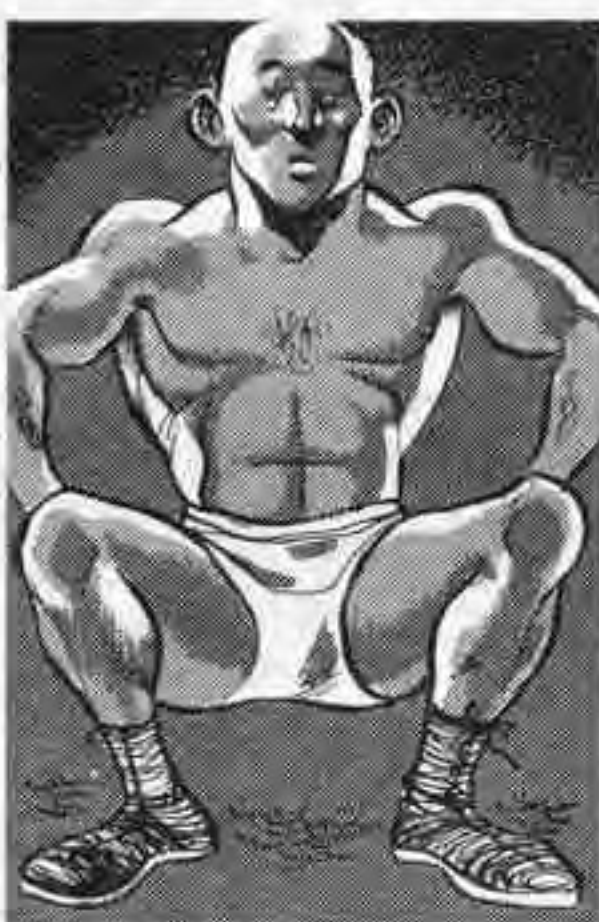

Repeat 1000 times and specific muscle (arrow) will be fully developed.

However, a Body-Building and Weight-Lifting enthusiast also knows that extreme caution must be taken to do each special exercise designed to develop a specific muscle exactly as prescribed, or wrong muscle may be developed.

Start to develop knee-cap muscle.

Step 1 ...

Step 2 ...

Step 3 ...

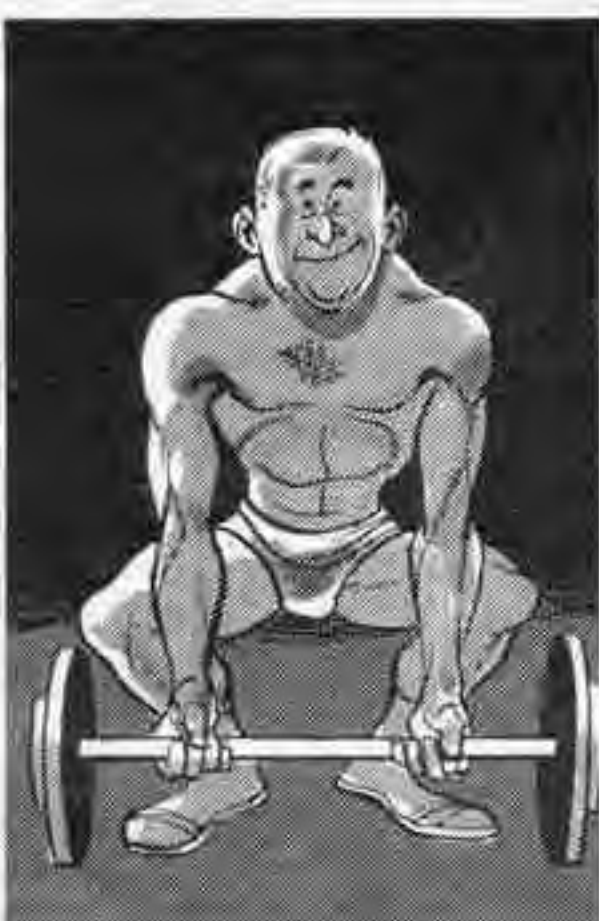

Wrong muscle developed. Not knee-cap muscle, but strain-muscle on forehead.

Every Body-Building and Weight-Lifting enthusiast also knows that extreme caution must be taken not to overdo specific exercises designed to develop specific muscles or, again, wrong muscles may accidentally be developed.

8 Start to develop specific muscle.

Step 3 ...

Again, wrong muscles are accidentally developed. These are called hernias.

FISH STORY

.. "Is this a dagger that I see before me?"—JOHNNY STOMPANATO

THIS AUTO KILL YOU DEPT.

With more cars on the American Road today than ever before, this naturally means more "new drivers" are on the loose. MAD's Driving Safety expert, Irving K. Fribble, has investigated accident reports, and finds that most collisions involving "new" drivers arise from a failure to obey highway signs, a failure to understand hand signals, and mainly a failure to stop the car in time. To solve the problem of "How to keep these novice drivers alive (so they can keep on buying MAD!), your editors decided to prepare the following article. When we finished, we found we'd solved that other problem instead: "How to reduce the number of cars on the American Road today." You'll comprehend when you read

MAD'S GUIDE FOR NOVICE DRIVERS

INSTRUMENTS AND CONTROLS

* "Out, damned spot!" —LESTOIL

* The novice driver should be thoroughly familiar with the instruments and controls in and around the dashboard so that he can immediately recognize the moment he's inside an automobile. Yessiree, knowing when you're inside an automobile is certainly a prerequisite to safe driving! To the right is a picture of things drivers see when they get behind the wheel, directly below are descriptions of what experienced drivers do with 'em so you can make the same mistakes.

PICTURES BY GEORGE WOODBRIDGE

HAND SIGNALS

The novice driver should be thoroughly familiar with hand signals so he can know what the driver in front plans to do so he can let the driver in back know what he plans to do, so when the driver in front doesn't do it, all three of 'em will pile up. Below are some of the more common hand signals used today, and what they're actually saying, if anything.

"I think it's stopped raining!"

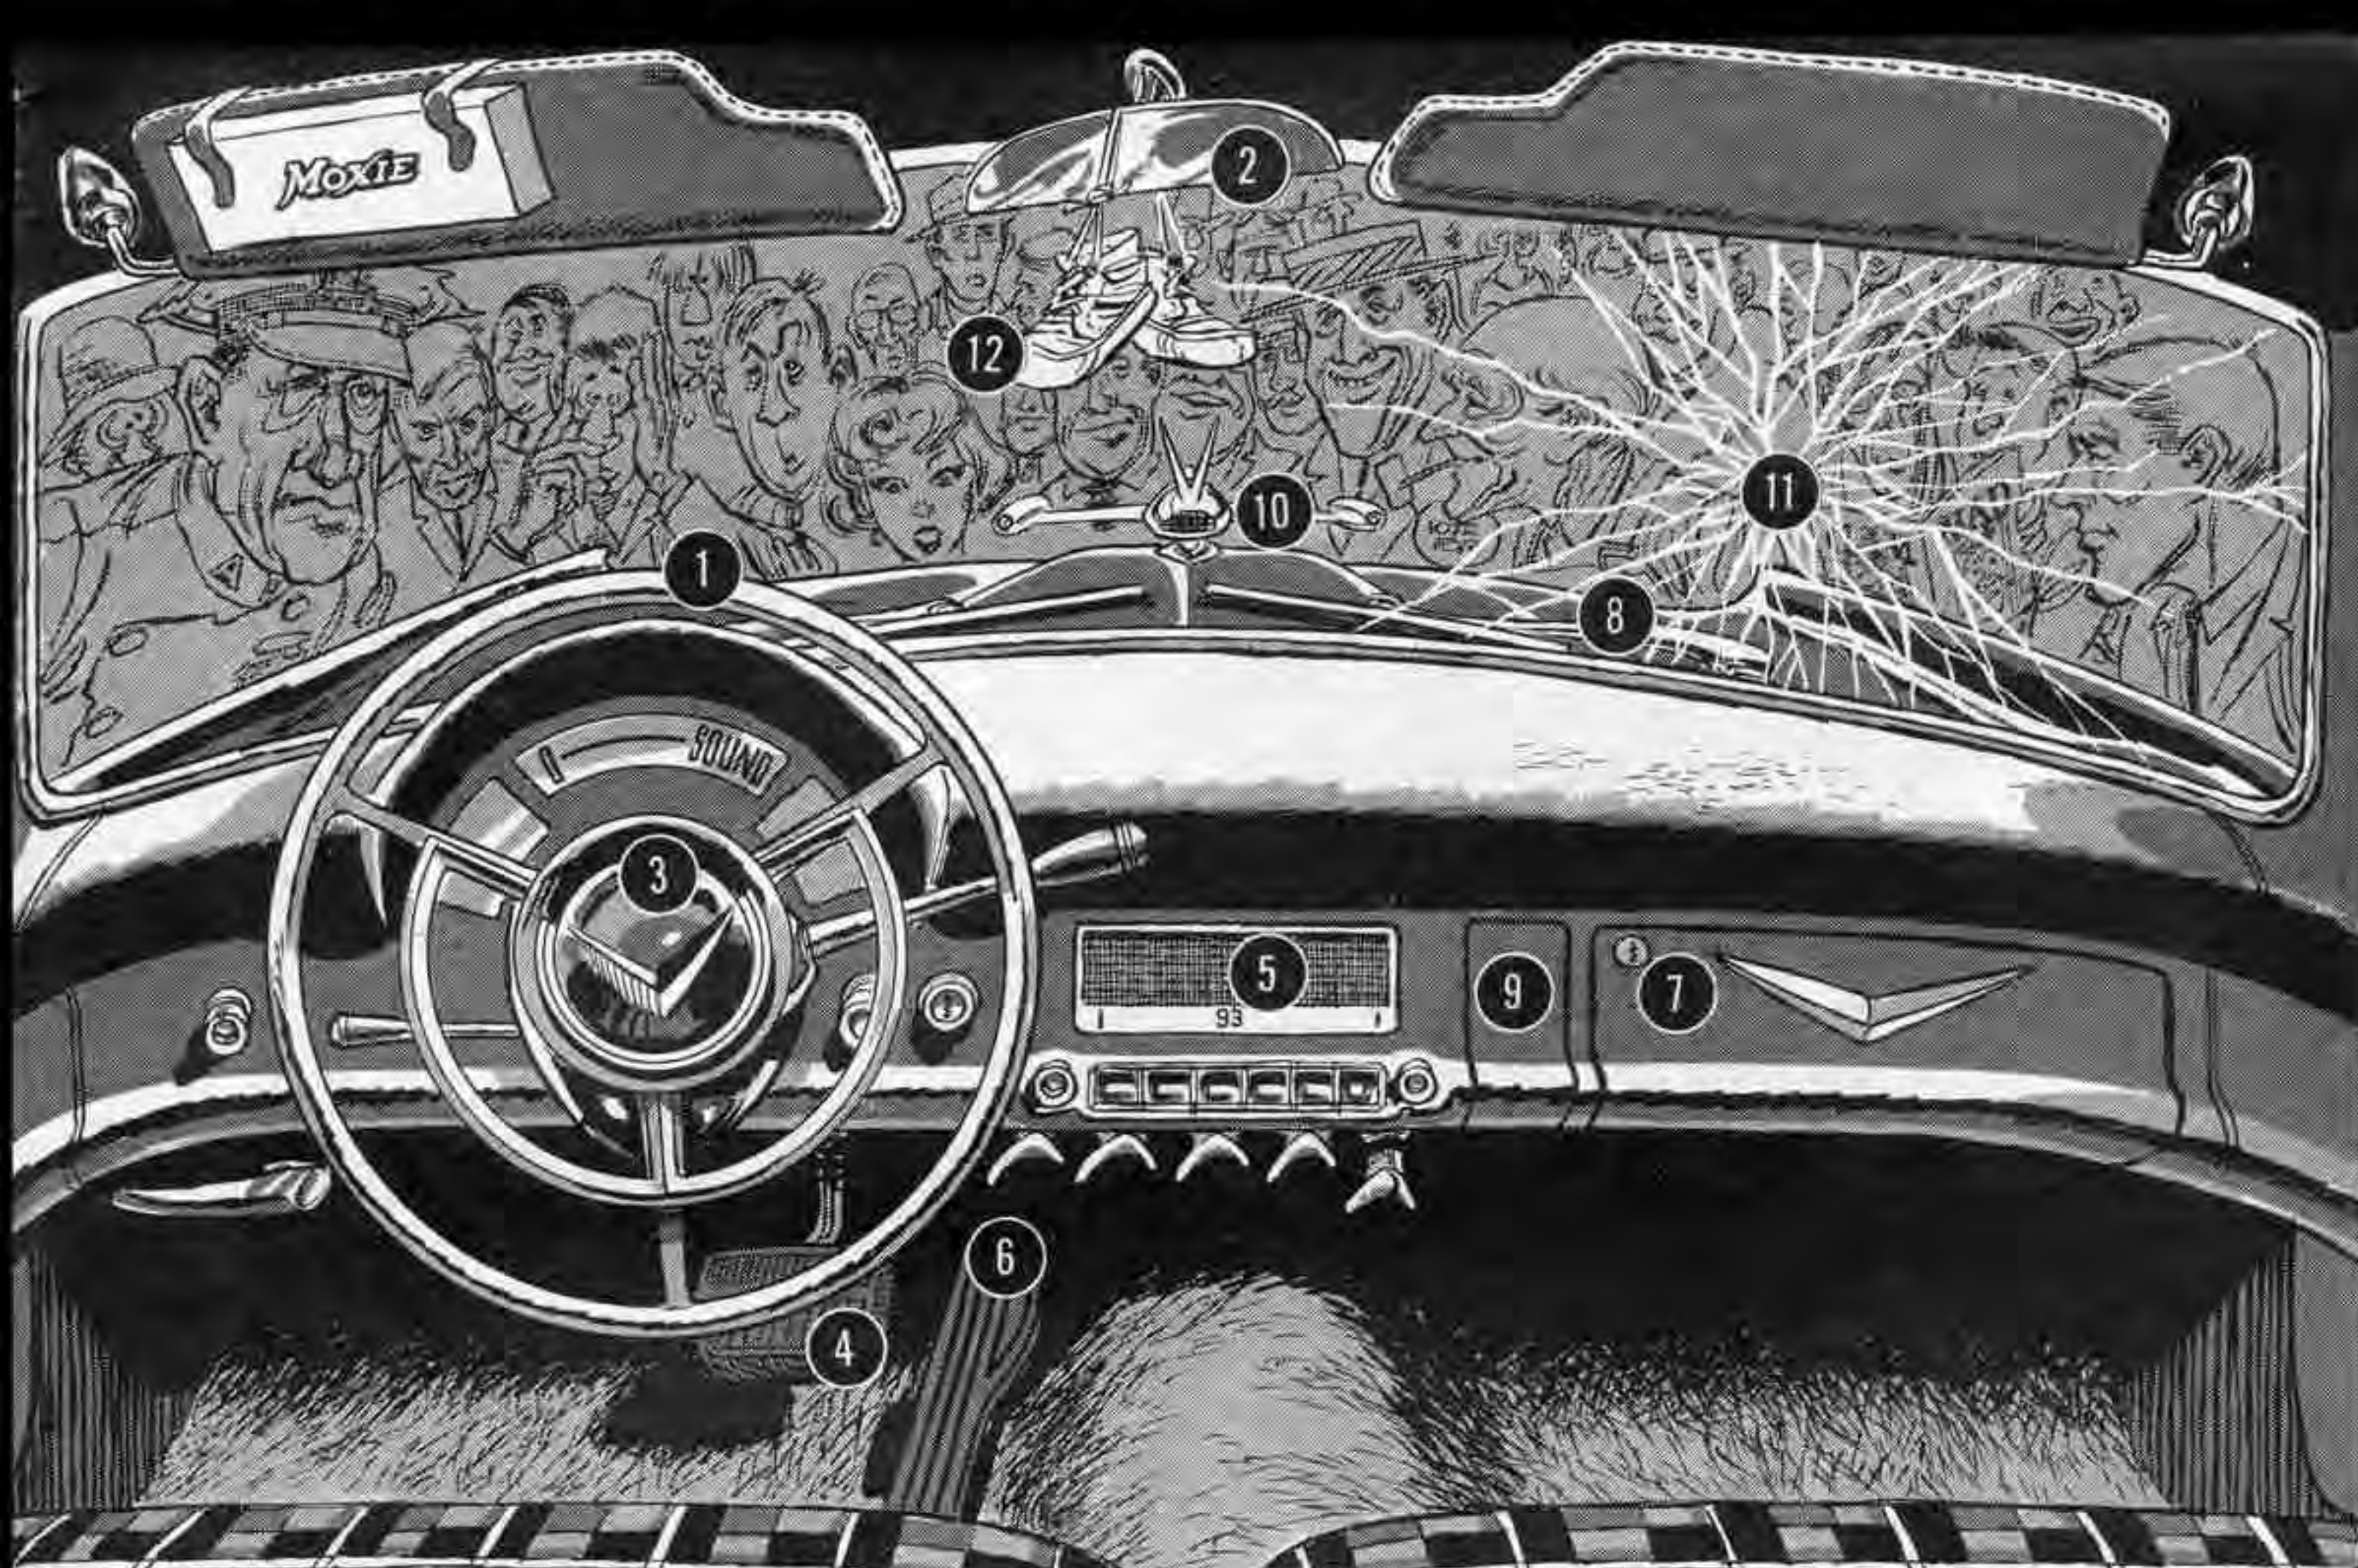

"Hey, look! A sputnik's going over!"

"My nail polish is still wet!"

"Watch out!
A Doberman Pinscher
is driving this car!"

- (1) STEERING WHEEL — To be held with one hand while other hand is around companion in seat beside you.
- (2) REAR VIEW MIRROR — To be adjusted so you can see how buddy in back is making out with his companion.
- (3) HORN — To be leaned on in order to save wear and tear on next item.
- (4) BRAKES — To be applied only if previous item proves ineffective.
- (5) RADIO — To be played as loud as possible, drowning out diverting noises like Police whistles.
- (6) GAS PEDAL — To be pressed down as far as possible, escaping petty annoyance like Police cars.
- (7) GLOVE COMPARTMENT — To be used to store and forget reminders from Police concerning petty violations.
- (8) WIPER — To be used as metronome when everybody in car is slightly high and feels like singing.
- (9) ASH TRAY — To be used until full, at which time buying new car is in order.
- (10) HOOD ORNAMENT — To be placed over white line in road.
- (11) WINDSHIELD — What you'll go through when next item blocks vision of oncoming truck.
- (12) LUCKY CHARM — What you'll need if crazy enough to follow the above directions.

"I don't know where to put this so my wife won't find it."

"I'm the only guy on my block who can steer with his feet."

"I think I just saw a girl I went to High School with."

"I may turn here if this is Belch Rd., but I'm not sure which way."

HIGHWAY SIGNS

It is important for the novice driver to obey highway signs. It is equally important for the novice driver to know what each highway sign means, so he'll know just what to obey. Most highway signs are usually one word or two, and don't explain what they mean. Here are some of the more common highway signs together with translations so you'll know exactly what they're trying to tell you.

Get over in the middle, in case you meet two motorcycles coming the other way down opposite sides of the road.

Take better aim at pedestrians, as most of them you'll encounter in this area are small.

Blow your horn as you approach, so the engineer of the train will see you and
S T O P

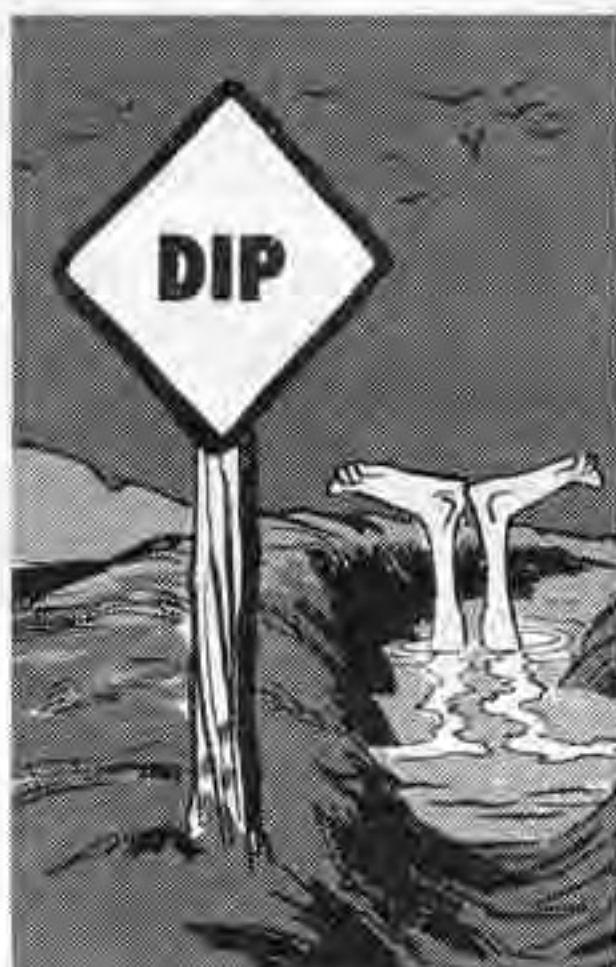

Highway departments just put these signs up for a gag. Keep on going.

Never mind keeping your eyes on the road. The real danger is up there.

Stop here and remove your dental work. If you have none, wait for the next driver and knock out his.

Take off your clothes and dive into the next fairly deep mud puddle you see.

Does not apply unless you happen to have some cattle in the car with you.

Let go of the steering wheel. Why bother steering when you're skidding sideways anyway?

Run into the back end of the car directly ahead of you. If there isn't any, speed up and find one.

This is the highway department's way of gently chiding you for not driving fast enough. Get moving.

Stay in the middle. Won't be much traffic there.

Why subject yourself to danger any longer than necessary? Speed up and get through as fast as you can.

If you can't pick off a pedestrian here — you ought to go back to Driving School.

Play it safe. Get down on the floor and work the pedals with your hands.

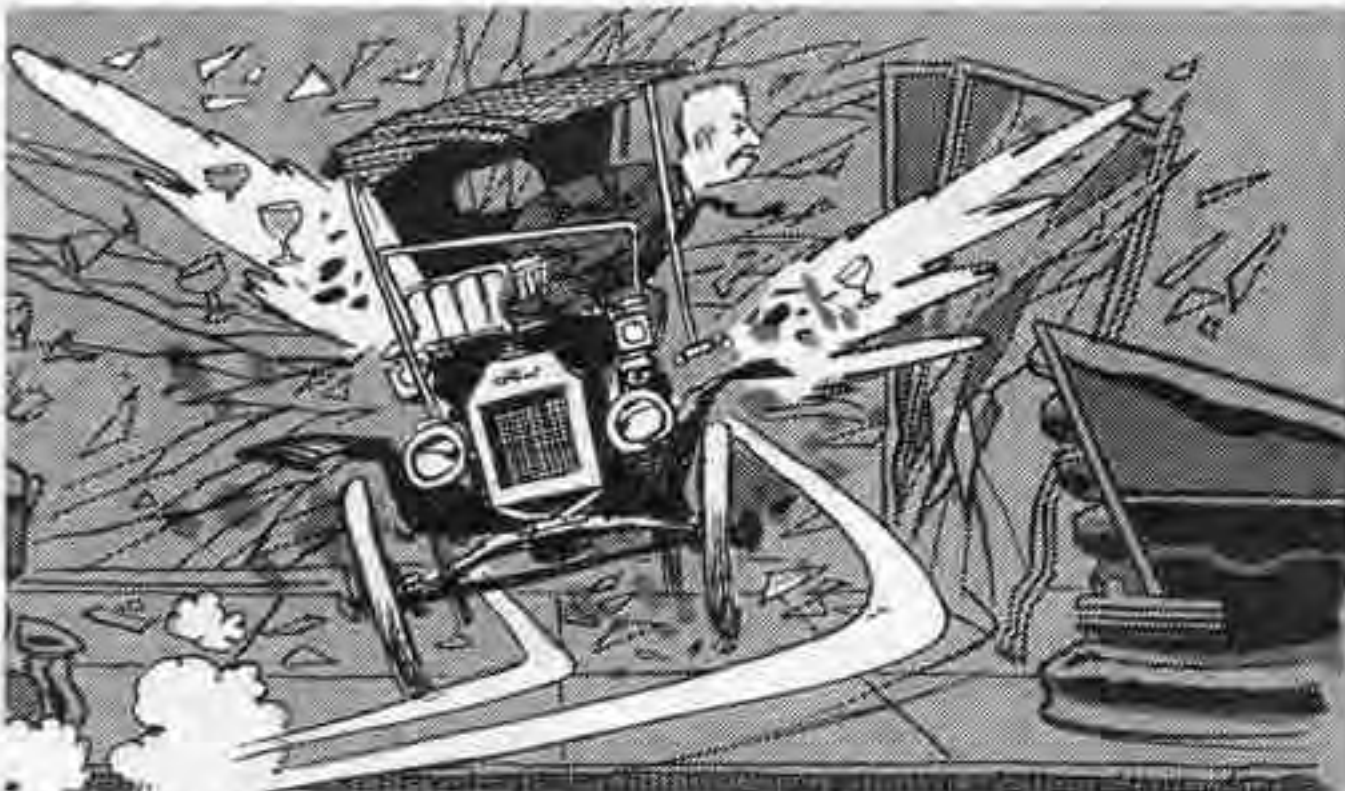

HOW TO PARK

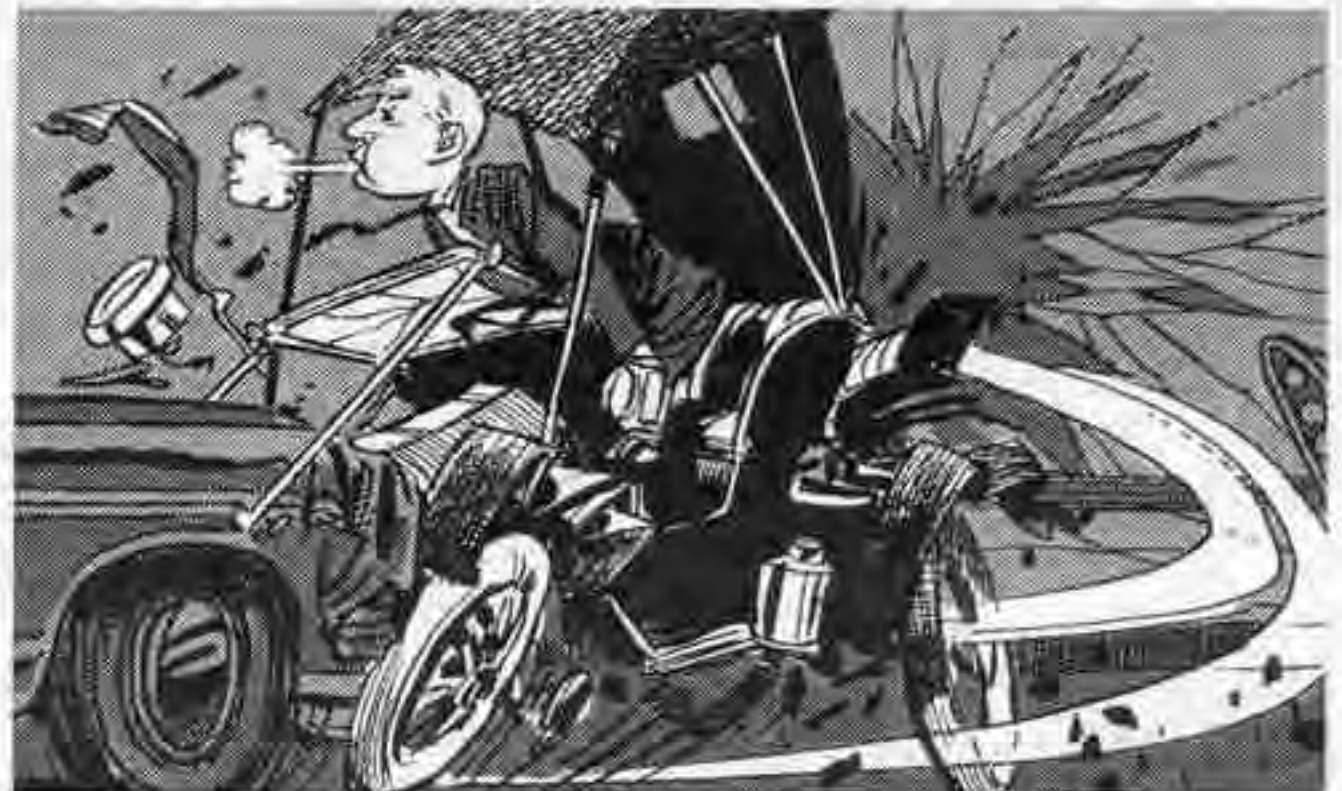

Parking is one of the most difficult skills for the beginning driver to learn. Here, Elihu Fribble, MAD's Driving Safety expert, prepares to demonstrate the correct method.

Notice that Mr. Fribble first pulls up ahead of the empty space so that he is exactly parallel to the car in front. This is the correct position for preparing to park a car.

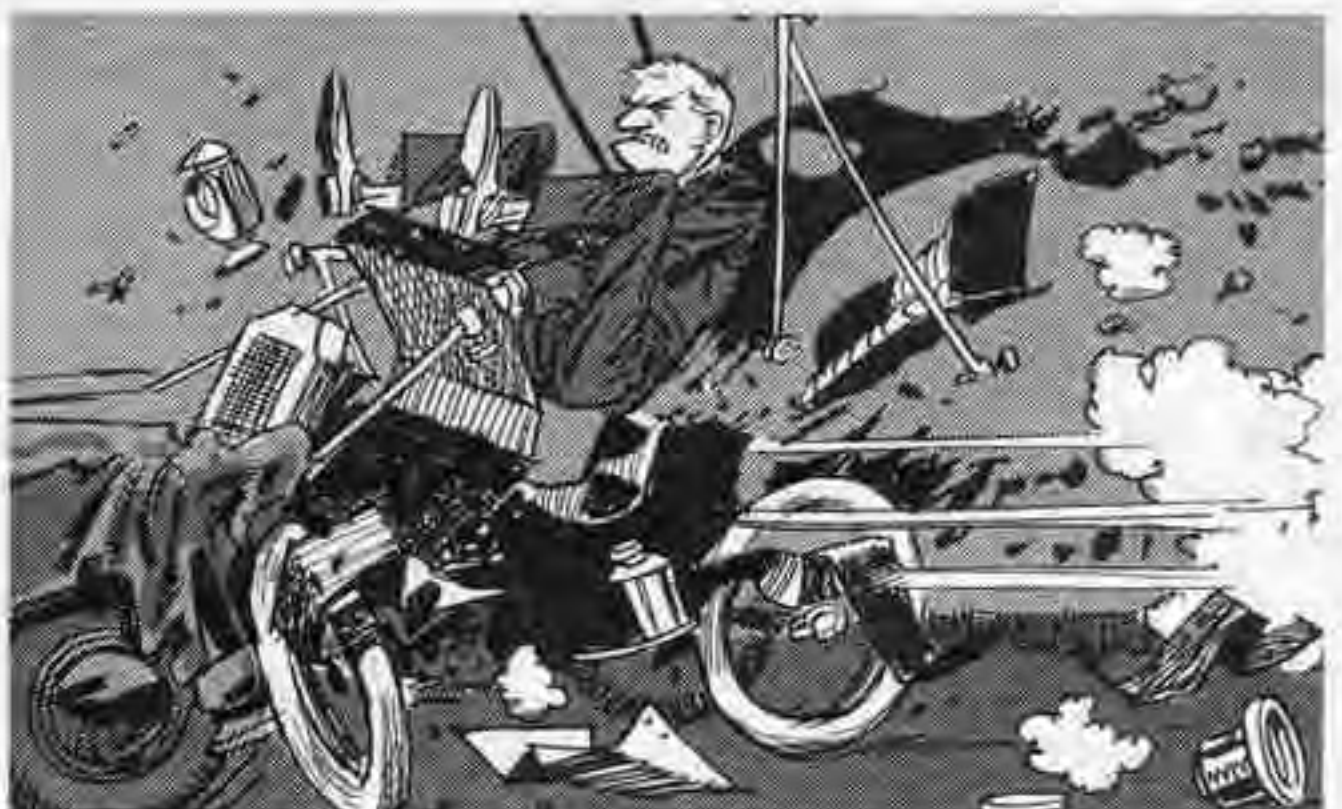

Cutting his wheels right, he now backs up until his front wheels are even with the rear wheels of the car in front.

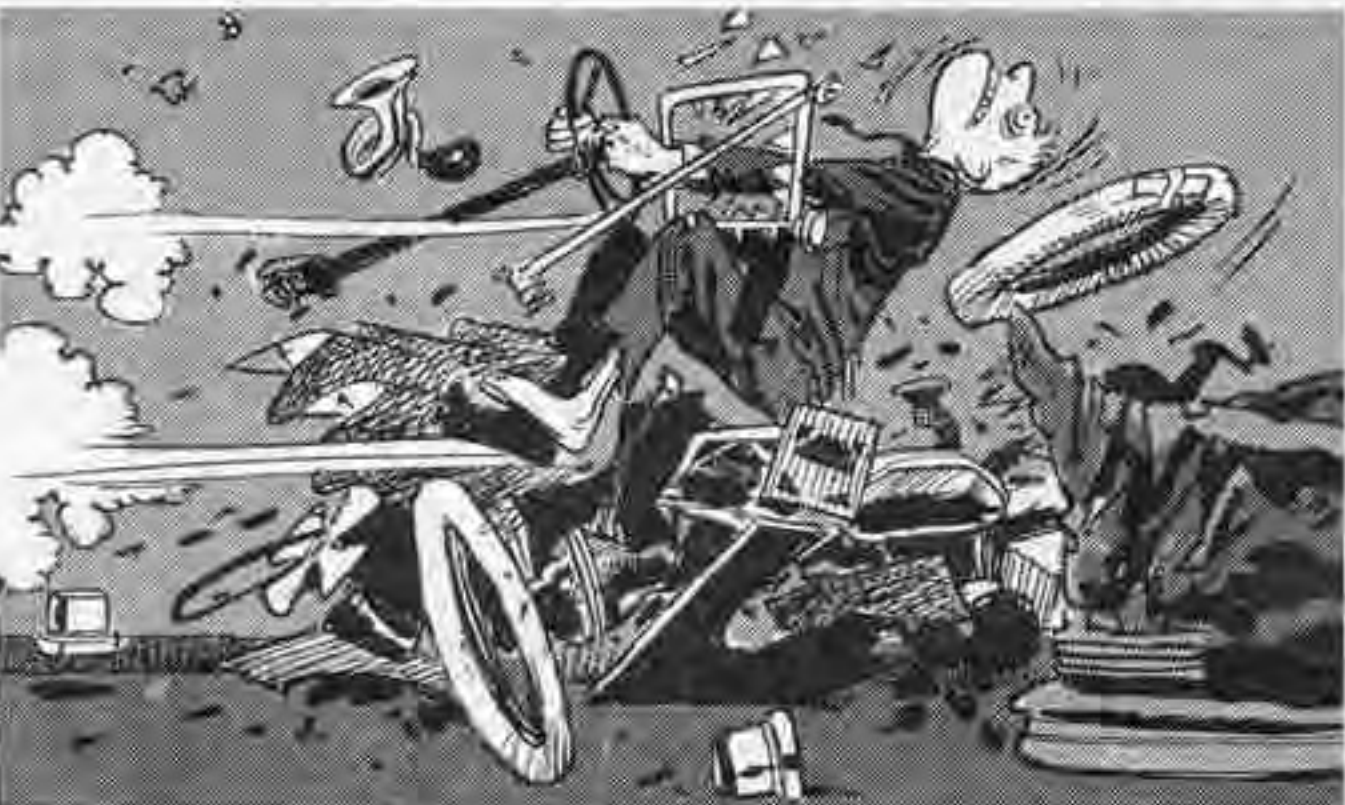

At this point, he cuts wheels in the opposite direction, thus causing the front end of his car to ease into space.

Having accomplished this maneuver, the car need only be pulled forward slightly so that it is centered in space.

This centering within parking area is done so that drivers of cars ahead and behind may leave their own spaces easily.

By utilizing this simple method, parking need not become the bugaboo it usually becomes for inexperienced drivers.

Mr. Fribble explains his parking method in greater detail with diagrams in his book "Let the lot attendant park it!"

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH DEPT.

The first person we learn about when we study American History is the "Father of Our Country", George Washington. Every school kid in the land knows that George was uncompromising in his truthfulness and honesty. Which brings us to this article. We got to wondering what George Washington would do if, by some stroke of fate, he were alive today. Naturally, he wouldn't stand a chance of becoming President. Who could go that far in politics and still remain honest? As a matter of fact, he'd probably have pretty tough going in whatever he attempted. For example, can you imagine him as the chief executive of a large Madison Avenue corporation called

ARMSTRONG TIRES'

Ounce of Prevention Grip can save your life

...occasionally!

PATENTED SAFETY DISCS
STOP DEADLY SKIDS... as no other tire can!

(Because no other tire has discs! They may have other devices that work equally well or better, but without discs, they just don't stop deadly skids exactly like our tire does!)

ONLY ARMSTRONG TIRES have unique, patented Safety Discs between tread ribs (arrow).

They keep the tread ribs apart just as discs in the fist keep the fingers apart. Tread can't squeeze shut!

Result: No matter how hard you brake, Armstrong tread stays open, ready to grip the road to stop those deadly skids.

Naturally, this lasts only until the tread wears down till it's even with them discs, whereupon it all becomes one smooth slippery surface like any other tire that wears down, with as many skid dangers as ever.

So remember, careful driving is still more important than the tires you use!

LIFETIME ROAD HAZARD GUARANTEE — not 12, 18, 24 months, but as long as you use the tire . . . subject to very tricky limitations!

Compare the Guarantee Armstrong gives you with that on ordinary tires! (And please note that even though Armstrong is an ordinary tire, we feel otherwise!) "Rhino-Flex" construction makes Armstrong Tires so rugged they are guaranteed for the entire lifetime of the tire (adjustment, prorated for used tire tread) . . . and here's the tricky part, because we prorate off the list price and not off the usual discount price, and we have a clever method for measuring tread-use, so you really wind up paying for a new tire even if it blows out while you leave the showroom!

Less tars & More taste

Yes, we try, but we don't succeed! Because, actually it's pretty impossible to give you both! Since it's the tars that contribute so much to the flavor, obviously one can't have less tars and more taste. And if we said "More Tars and More Taste," we wouldn't be using our initials!

Improved Filter! When we first decided to bring our L&M, we planned on using a poor cheap filter, but at the last minute, we changed our minds and a slightly better one was used. Thus, L&M does have a really and truly "improved" filter!

"Couldn't be done, couldn't be done." Hardly anyone dreamed that 50,000,000 people would be able to enjoy a "Western"... in their own homes! Of course, no one ever really counted the 50,000,000 people, and no one really knows how many people actually enjoy watching them. It's just that we feel they should. We may be wrong!

No other motor car produced today can match the quality and magnificence of the new Cadillac . . . with the possible exception of the Rolls-Royce, which surpasses it in many respects. However, in a Cadillac, no detail of safety and automotive craftsmanship is overlooked—except, of course, where they add nothing to sales or profits. The owner of a Cadillac enjoys a unique feeling of achievement—which is so essential to all of us these days—particularly those of us with deep-rooted inferiority complexes. For the Cadillac, above all else, has snob appeal. Your Cadillac dealer will be proud to show you this fine motor car—the finest made today—taking into account the inherent limitations of mass-production. In other words, you could get a lemon!

CONNED BY THE CANNED GOODS DEPT.

We recently ran across this story in the food section of our local newspaper:

ANNOUNCES NEW LINE OF ITALIAN FOODS

NEW YORK — (A&P) The Mama Mia Food Company has brought out a new line of 12 different canned foods. The firm feels that each of the Italian specialties will help fill the need for variety in menu-planning demanded by the American housewife. The 12 varieties are now available in leading groceries and super markets.

Since we're crazy about Italian food, we ran down to our corner store and bought all 12 of Mama Mia's different canned foods. It was only after we put them up on our pantry shelf and studied them that we realized

MIRAGE IN THE GARAGE DEPT.

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA IS THE ONLY COUNTRY IN THE WORLD THAT PRODUCES A NEW MODEL CAR EVERY YEAR

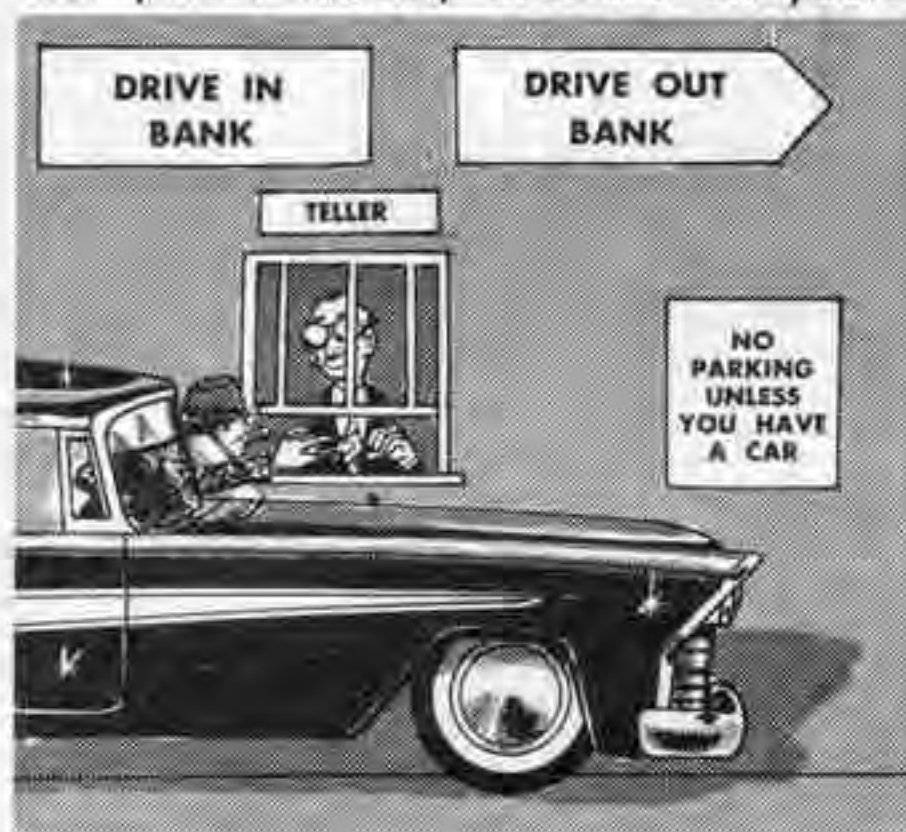

SO, WITH THIS FACT IN MIND, MAD PREPARED THE FOLLOWING ARTICLE WHICH ASKS . . .

WHO NEEDS IT?

You've just made the final payment on last year's model, and it's all yours!

The 220 HP engine purrs like a kitten because she's just barely broken in.

It rides like a dream, because you've finally gotten all the bugs out of it.

AND YET, AS YOU PULL UP INTO YOUR DRIVEWAY, YOU SUDDENLY GET THE FEELING

YOU'RE A FAILURE!

Because Detroit, through Madison Ave. ads like on that billboard, tells you!

And a New Car Dealer, like the joker waiting on your front lawn, tells you!

But mainly, because your neighbor who just bought that new model, tells you!

You're a failure, because you're driving last year's model car—the one with shorter tail fins, less chrome, fewer lights, and 3249 miles on it. So you borrow on life insurance policies, take a second mortgage on your house, and trade in your last year's model for the latest one! This means

YOU'RE A SUCCESS!

MAINLY, YOU'VE SUCCEEDED IN GOING BACK INTO DEBT FOR $5000, FALLING FOR

"PLANNED OBSOLESCENCE"

29

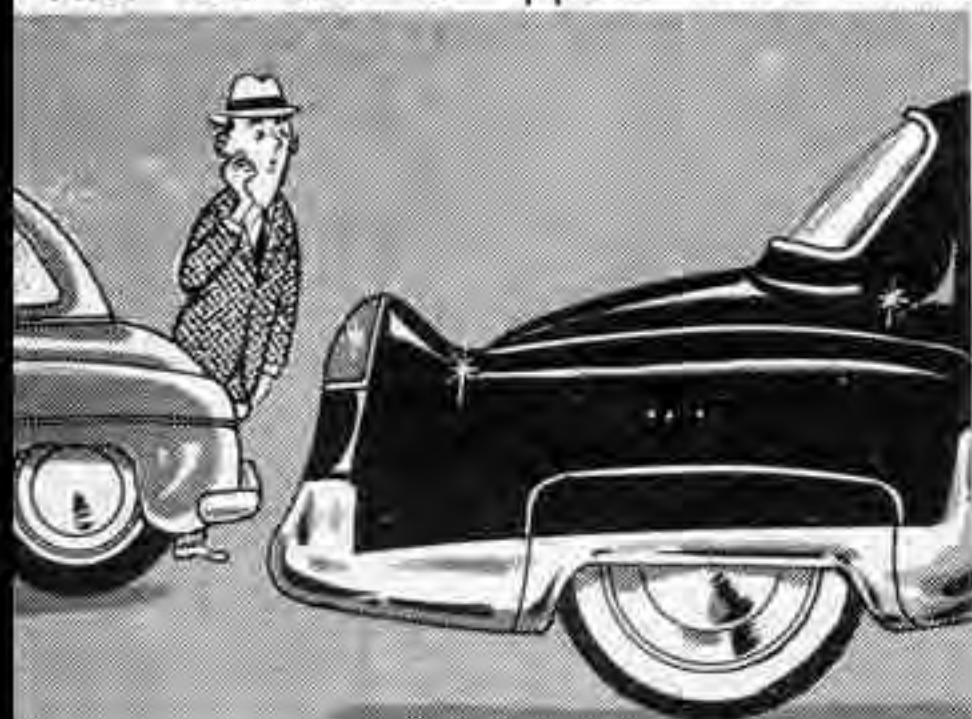

HOW "PLANNED OBS

Each year, car manufacturers spend millions of dollars in engineering, research, and designing in order to find out how little they need change the new models so it will be

PLANNED OBSOLESCENCE YOU'VE SEEN, AND

FINS

First tail fins to appear were small.

These tail fins grew taller each year.

Now they're bending tail fins outward.

GLASS

First autos were metal, with windows.

Windows were enlarged, metal reduced.

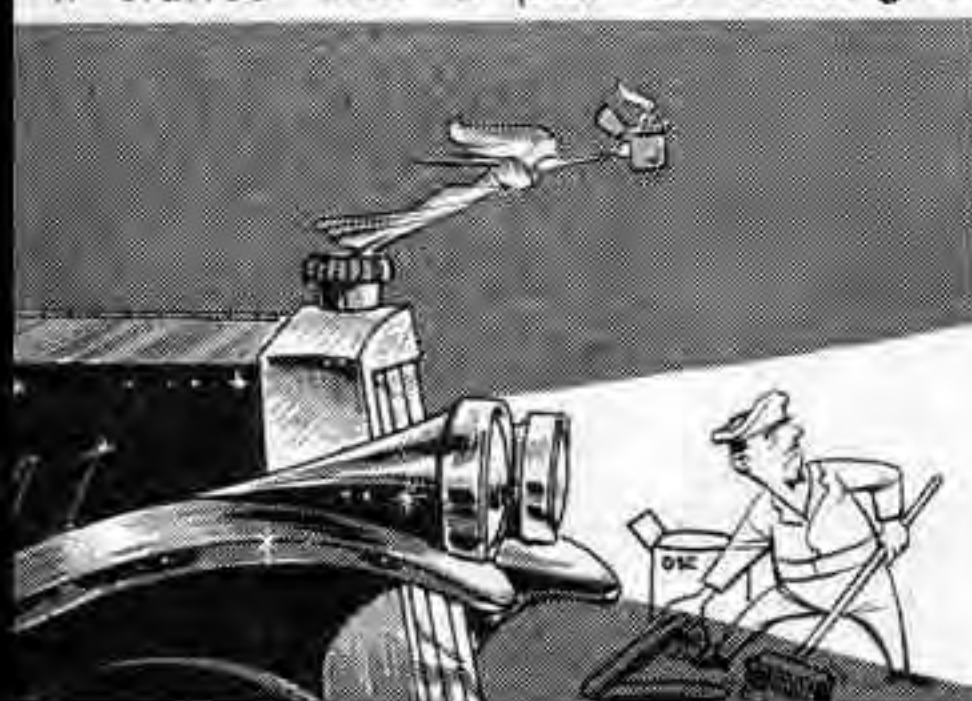

Today, windows almost go all around.

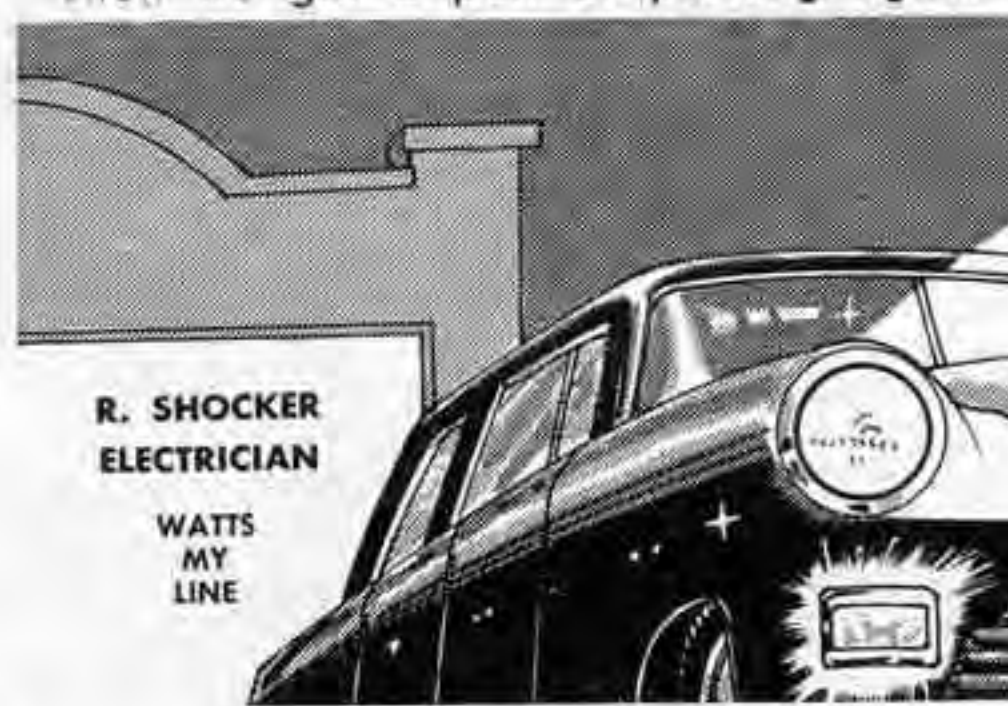

LIGHTS

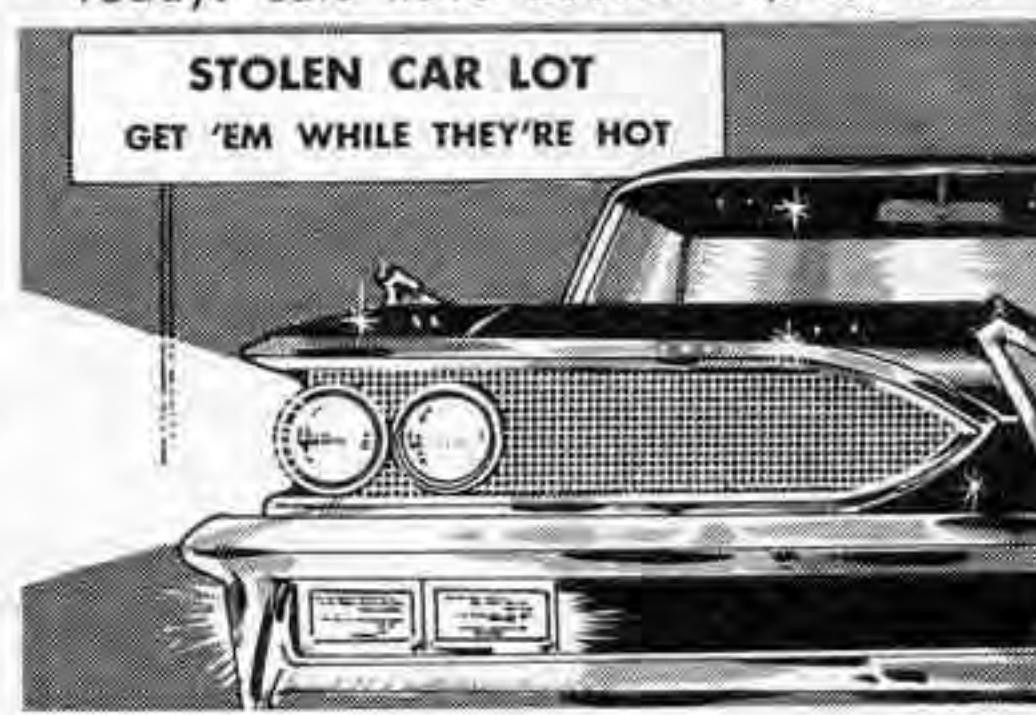

It started with a pair of headlights.

Then we got a pair of parking lights.

Today's cars have doubled up on this.

CHROME

First cars were all paint, no chrome.

Gradually, more chrome trim was added.

Today chrome and paint are about equal.

obvious at once that you're still driving that old model, and therefore you're a cheap, slobbish, no-good failure! These slight changes are known as "Planned Obsolescence"!

PLANNED OBSOLESCENCE YOU'LL BE SEEING

STORY AND PICTURES BY DAVID BERG

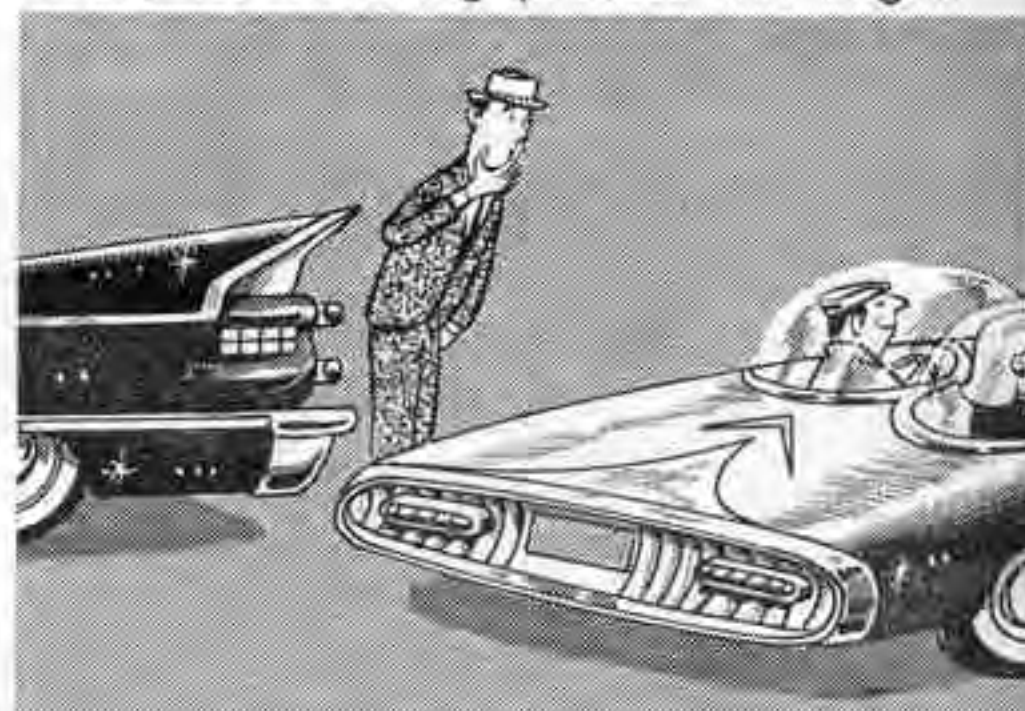

Overpasses will limit height of fins.

Garage widths will limit outward lean.

Then, the shrinking process will begin.

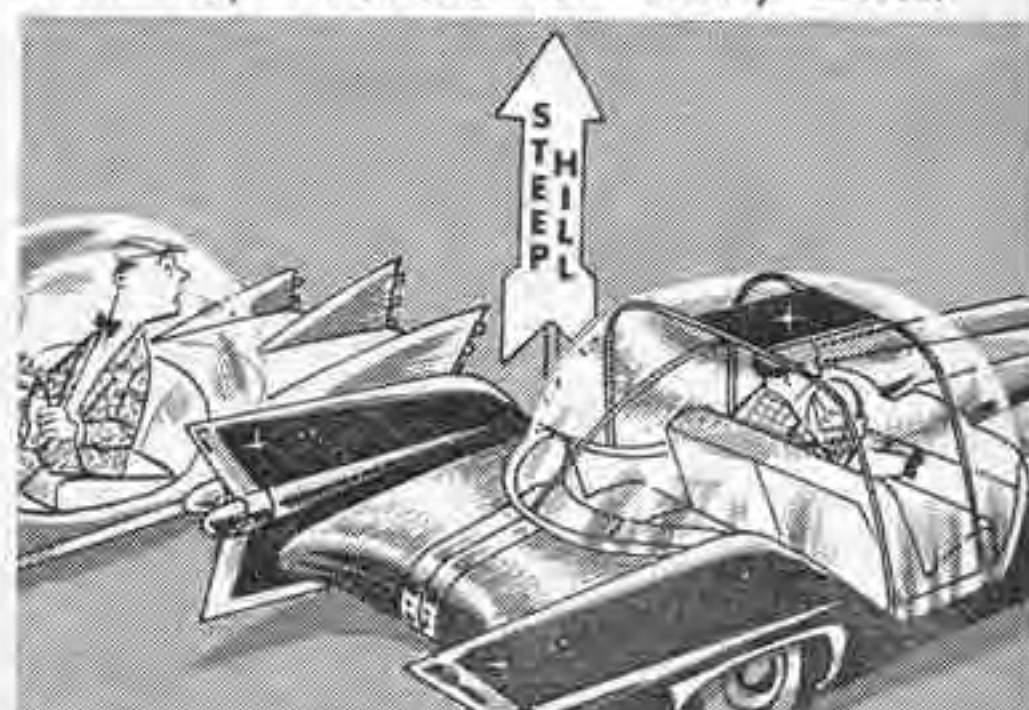

Finally, metal posts will be removed.

And we'll drive around in fish bowls.

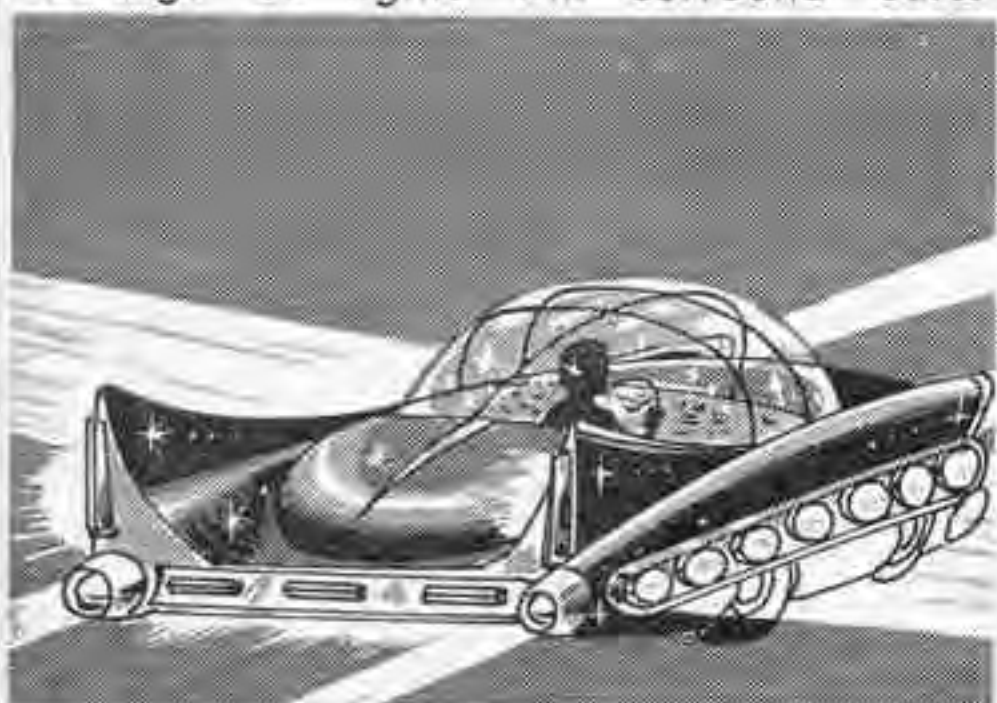

Until they introduce new safety metal.

 "Out, out, brief candle!"—LIBERACE

Strings of lights will surround cars.

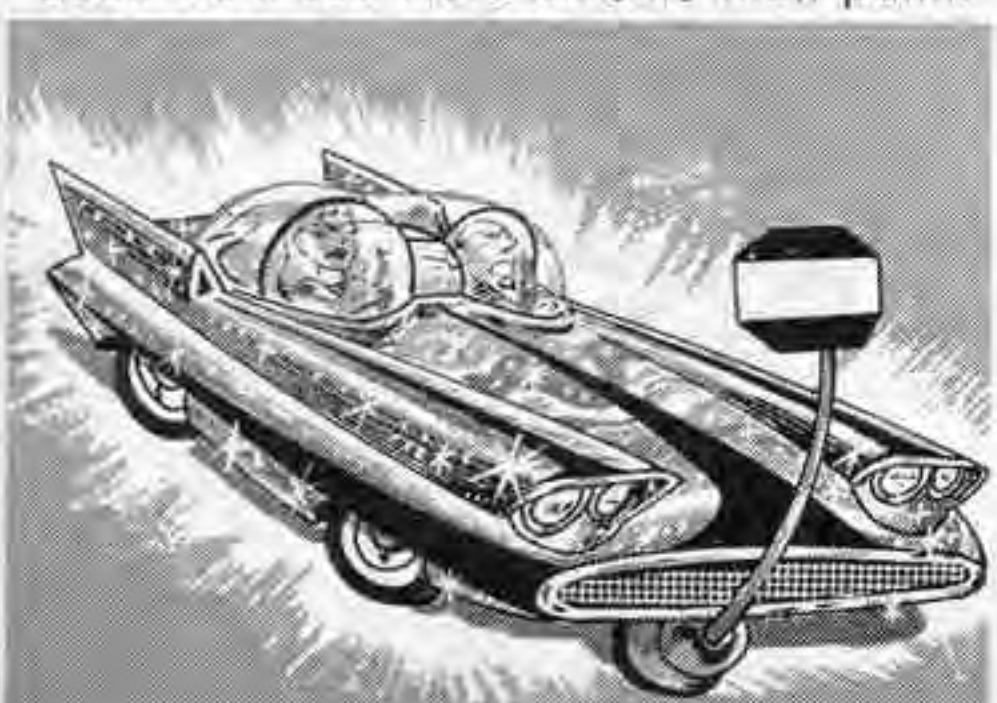

Then, they'll start up over the roof.

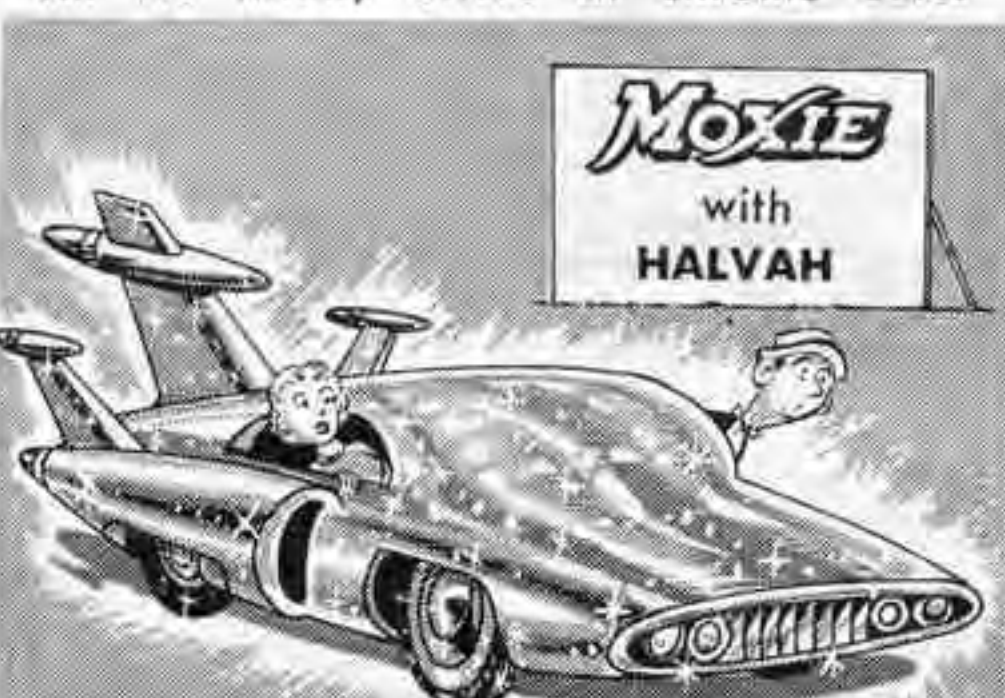

And at Xmas, we'll decorate old autos.

Soon we'll see more chrome than paint.

Till we finally arrive at chrome cars.

Then, they will introduce paint trim.

With most of American businesses enjoying prosperity, the ancient profession of tattooing is on the rocks. Thousands of unemployed tattoo artists are walking the streets with their needles poised, and no one to stab. MAD feels that the real trouble lies in the fact that old tattoo designs have become outmoded, and nobody has come up with new ones to take their place. George Woodbridge (who is thoroughly familiar with needles) was assigned the problem, and now

MAD has figured out why people can't stand TV commercials. It's because the same sponsor keeps making the same pitch on different shows. It makes no difference what kind of program it is, all we ever get to see is that same tired commercial. With this article, MAD offers TV

TV COMMERCIALS T

The Weather Report Commercial

So much for the weather forecast!
Now for the stomach forecast!

Cold weather means hot meals, and hot meals often bring on storm warnings of heartburn and excess stomach acidity!

Note this interior section just before dinner at 6 P.M. tonight. The over-all temperature is a normal 98.6 degrees. The outlook is sunny, the acidity is regular, and the intestinal tract is clear!

However, mid-way through dinner, at about 6:15, there should be a change in the interior region! Eating too fast will very likely form a high-pressure area here ... in the stomach!

The News Report Commercial

And now, this is Chet Huntley, taking time out from the news, to bring you a special report from our sponsor. I'm outside Chin Foo's Chinese Restaurant, where Mr. Otis Bullrush is just finishing his dinner. To get the medical side of the story, let's switch over to Dave Brinkley ...

This is Dave Brinkley on the mobile unit! I'm talking here with Dr. Melvin Rancid! Would you mind telling us, Doctor, is it true that you're Otis Bullrush's personal physician?

That's right! And I've warned him a hundred times not to eat too much Chinese food. It gives him excess stomach acidity. But he just loves it ...

To get the food side of the story, let's switch over to Chet Huntley—

This is Chet Huntley inside Chin Foo's Restaurant, where Otis Bullrush has just finished his dinner! How do you feel, Mr. Bullrush?

Lousy! I never should've eaten that last egg roll! Now I'm crawling with excess stomach acidity! I gotta get to a drug store ... quick!

For the drug store side of the story, let's go to Dave Brinkley!

sponsors a suggestion. Once the viewer's been put into the mood of a particular show, why not give him a commercial that will appeal directly to that mood? For instance, here's how the makers of Glugg Stomach Pills could advertise their product with a set of entertaining

This will be followed by rising temperature, and some precipitation on the forehead! The esophagus area around the heart is due to feel the effects of a heat wave of nausea sweeping up from the storm center in the stomach.

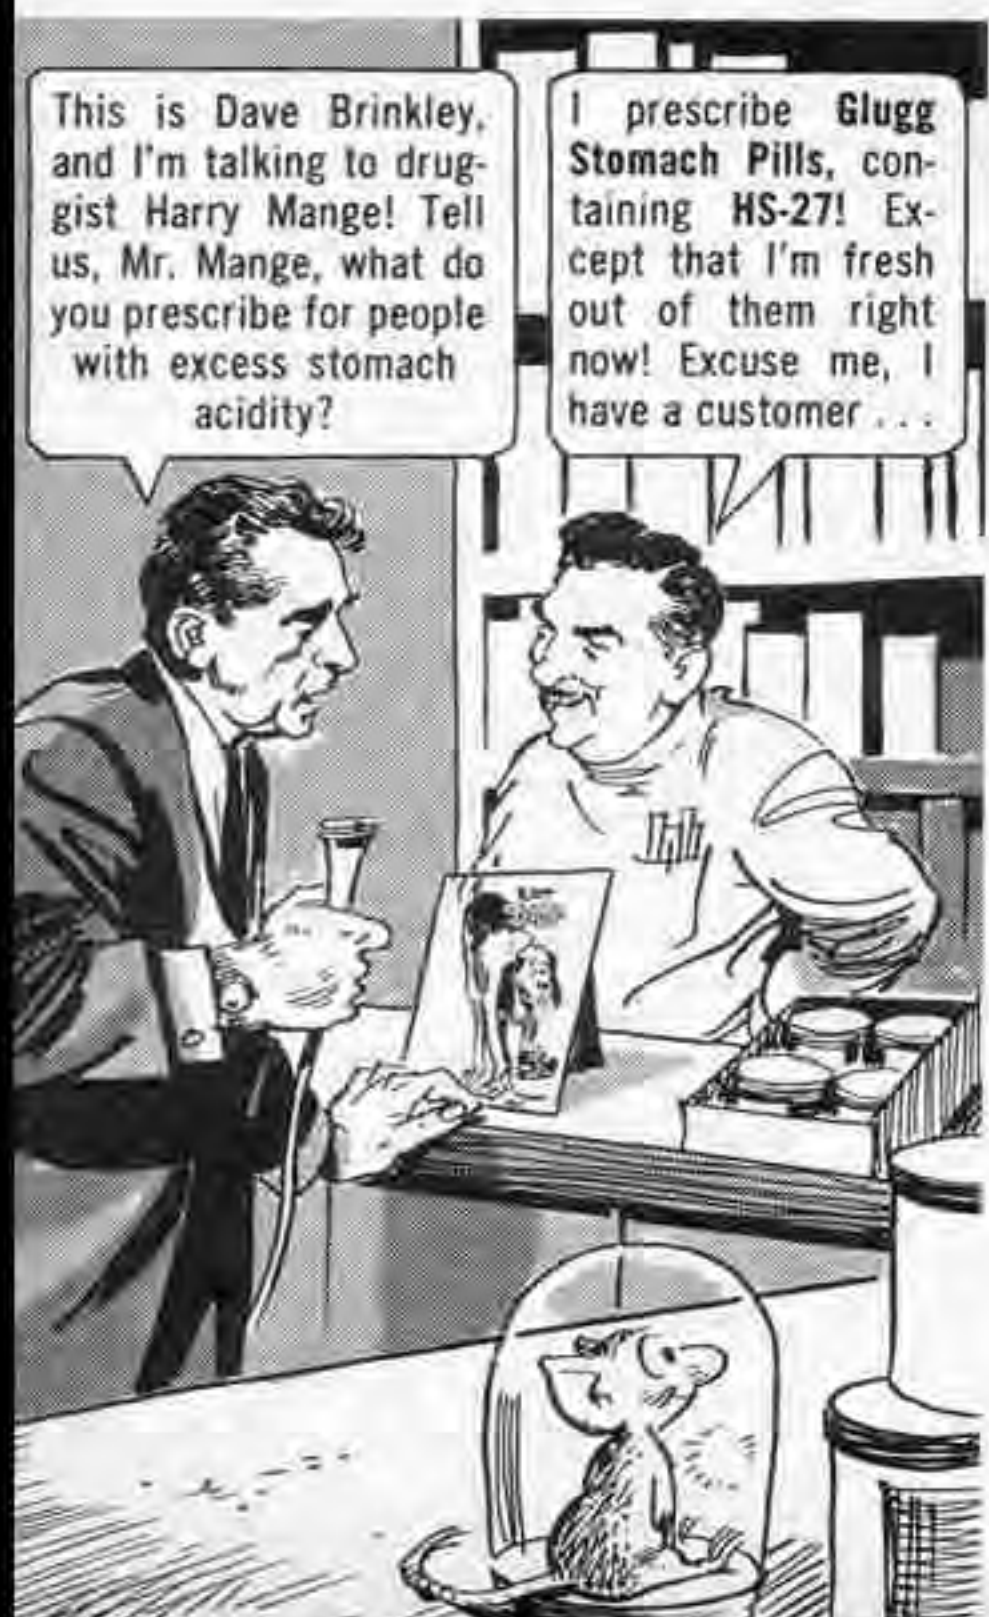

Unless conditions change drastically, this wave of nausea should reach the intestines by 9 P.M. tonight! But don't wait until then! Act early! There's only one way to fight excess stomach acidity, and that is by taking GLUGG STOMACH PILLS!

Two Glugg Stomach Pills will bring relief to your interior regions! They'll form a low-pressure area in your esophagus and bring a soothing cool front of air down into your stomach and intestines! Within minutes, the nausea wave will disappear, and your forecast will be clear and sunny once again...

... "I come to bury Caesar, not to praise him!" -NIELSEN TV RATINGS

This is Dave Brinkley, and I'm talking to drug-gist Harry Mange! Tell us, Mr. Mange, what do you prescribe for people with excess stomach acidity?

I prescribe Glugg Stomach Pills, containing HS-27! Except that I'm fresh out of them right now! Excuse me, I have a customer...

I just over-ate! Quick! Give me some Glugg Stomach Pills containing HS-27 or I'll collapse from excess acidity!

In that case, I'll call an ambulance!

For the Ambulance side of the story, here's Chet Huntley...

This is Chet Huntley! We're on our way to pick up Otis Bullrush! Tell us, driver, is this an unusual call for you?

Nah! Every night, I gotta pick up some slob who ate too much and couldn't buy a tin of Glugg Stomach Pills! You'd think they'd learn to keep a tin handy and avoid emergencies—like this one, which we're probably too late for!

In that case, to get the mortician side of the story, let's switch to Gabriel Heatter!

The Soap Opera Commercial

And now, let's take time out from our story for another episode of "Food Can Be Beautiful." Yesterday, as in the past 243 episodes, John, who suffered an attack of heartburn, is trying to open his handy tin of Glugg Stomach Pills. As our commercial opens today, he is talking with Aunt Martha...

Maybe if I use both hands, I can get it open

Do try to hurry, John—before Sidney marries Irma, the divorced widow who is after his money!

Do you know that Glugg Pills contain the secret ingredient HS-27?

Yes, I do—and so does Sidney's brother, Hector, who's been seeing Gladys against my will!

The Panel Show Commercial

And now—if your blindfolds are all in place, we'll meet our mystery guest! So, mystery guest, come in and—sign in, please!

Do you make people happy with what you do?

Let's say I make them feel better!

The Detective Show Commercial

The killer left no clues, except for that toothpick... Does it tell you anything, Matt?

Yes, it does, Ben! There's a trace of a substance known as HS-27 on it. That's the secret ingredient found only in Glugg Stomach Pills!

Glugg, eh? That's a fast-acting remedy for heartburn and excess stomach acidity, isn't it?

That's right! Say, remember that ex-con, Pills Kowalski? He was always complaining about his stomach!

Wait! We've got a flier on him! Here it is! "Pills Kowalski: black hair, blue eyes, scar on left cheek, chronic heartburn"—You're right!

There's our pigeon, Ben. Let's see—"last address: 707 Elm St." Let's stake out his corner drug store!

Do you know that Glugg Pills stop heartburn in less than five minutes?

Do you know that in less than five minutes, Gwendolyn, who is secretly in love with Dr. Carver, who is actually Sidney's father, will blackmail your cousin, Lucille?

If I could get it open, I'd be able to show you the word GLUGG stamped on every pill!

You'd better get it open, or else little Timmy, the orphan, won't be able to visit his father in the sanitarium!

Will John be able to open his tin of Glugg Stomach Pills, and thus prevent Sidney from marrying Irma, stop Hector from seeing Gladys, forestall Gwendolyn from blackmailing Lucille, help little Timmy to see his sick father, and put an end to his own heartburn? Don't miss tomorrow's exciting commercial episode—brought to you by Glugg Stomach Pills. And now, back to our regular story.

Do you do your work out-of-doors?

No, I do my work inside!

Does it take a long time for you to go to work?

Not at all! I go to work to bring instant relief in less than five minutes!

Are you a GLUGG STOMACH PILL?

That's right! Just take two of me, and I'll instantly stop those stomach pains you've gotten from watching this sickening show!

That's him! That's the man who comes in for a tin of Glugg Stomach Pills every day at exactly 3 P.M.

It's nearly three, now! We'll wait!

This heartburn is killing me! Let me have a tin of Glugg Pills...

Don't move, Kowalski! You're trapped... thanks to GLUGG STOMACH PILLS!

Your heartburn and excess stomach acidity gave you away, Kowalski! We knew you were smart enough to take Glugg Pills for instant relief of stomach pains due to overeating!

I wanted to lay low! But I had to run out and get my daily tin of Glugg, with HS-27! Well, let's go!

Don't forget your change, Mr. Kowalski! Glugg Pills only cost 29 cents!

I disagree violently with the views taken in your recent article Teen-Agers Aren't All Bad. I happen to be a 23-year-old teen-ager myself, and I can assure you that every last one of us is rotten to the core.

AMY LU PFLIEDNIK
Backwater, Mo.

Our thanks to you for your forthright and sober article Teen-Agers Aren't All Bad. We are two brothers, ages 15 and 17 respectively. The article has done much to change our lives by opening our parents' eyes to the truth about teen-agers. In fact, next week, they're letting us buy long pants.

I read all the junk I can get ahold of that comes out about Hollywood, and was especially interested in your recent article about them foreigners in American pictures [European Sports Cars in the Film Capital, Gook, December 16]. I couldn't get over how much that Brigitte Bardot looks like me, only older. I'm enclosing a picture of myself for your enjoyment. It was taken about two years ago, but I still look the same except with more acne.

Views On The Atom

All of us here in Milwaukee were thrilled over your recent story about the Braves [What Will Atomic Radiation Do To Our Children? Gook, December 2]. RAISE RODENTS EASILY

Regardless of what you may hear, rats are a blessing to any home. They scare away stuff, including people. They make fine pets in addition. Don’t be like so many unenlightened home owners who say, “Well, sure! I mean it’s like you say about rats! You know, like it’s good to have them around! But I mean whatdya gonna do?” Now rats can be cultivated and encouraged to multiply with GROW-RAT, the amazing new rodent diet supplement accidentally discovered by Schwenly Distilleries. Q Please help me before I go out of my mind. I suspect my wife of having an affair with another man behind my back. Lately, whenever I come home from a trip on the road a day or so earlier than expected, I find cigar butts in the ashtrays and cocktail glasses all around the house. And there have been so many times recently when I have entered the kitchen quietly, and my wife has quickly hung up the phone. Not to mention those nights when she says she is visiting her mother, and doesn't come home till 3 AM in the morning. What can I do? Where can I turn?

Jealousy is a terrible disease that pollutes the mind and sours the spirit. Do not let it destroy you, as it has so many other unfortunate people. Often, there are simple and logical explanations for what we find so suspicious. You say you are on the road a lot. Perhaps your wife is lonely, and smoking cigars and drinking cocktails helps her to pass the time. Suppose she is planning a surprise party for you; wouldn't she hang up the phone quickly if you entered the room? And you know how women can talk far into the night! You ask me what you should do and where you should turn? I say you should turn to Faith. Sidney J. Faith. He's a good private detective, and it looks like you need one because those logical explanations I gave you don't even convince me!

Answers them questions

Q I am an accountant for a large business firm. For some time, I have been aware that my employer has been making large cash sales and pocketing the money, keeping a separate set of books, faking petty cash slips, padding expense accounts, and generally cheating the Government out of thousands of dollars in income taxes. This has bothered me to the point where I cannot sleep nights. I have developed a strong resentment toward my employer because of what I know. What should I do? If I go to him, and tell him what I know, I'll surely be fired.

If you go to your employer honestly and forthrightly and tell him what you know, you will surely not be fired. You will not be fired mainly because you know too much! Just lay your cards on the table. Once your employer cuts you in on the "take" you will begin to sleep nights again, and your resentment toward him will fade.

Q I have been having a running argument with my girl friend. She insists that necking is wrong, and I say it's okay because everybody does it these days. But she just keeps on running. And I'm getting tired of chasing her.

How can I straighten her out?

A well-placed shot in the solar plexus will effectively straighten your girl friend out, but it won't solve your problem, mainly because it's no fun necking with a girl who's unconscious. Get her to stop running long enough to feed her a couple of dry martinis, and you'll accomplish what you want to do.

Q Do you believe that the present manic-depressive element in modern literature is due to the retreat of a suppressed libido into the realm of ultra-conscious mysticism which has resulted in the atavistic reversion to heroes motivated by so-called base-impulses? Or do you believe that this is an unconscious reversal in protest against Victorian romanticism?

There's no doubt about it.

GOOFING OFF

One of the most pressing problems facing human beings today is the universal desire to "goof off", to "let George do it", to escape from our responsibilities as breadwinners, homemakers, students, and heads of government.

If we are to accept the premise that man is basically a lazy slob, and this we all know from personal experience, then we must also accept the fact that goofing off is a natural tendency, commensurate with nose picking and gathering belly-button lint.

Once this truth is established, and the guilt associated with goofing off is dispelled forever, man will be free to move on, unfettered, toward the glorious goal he seeks of self-destruction and extinction. That is, if the Hula-Hoop don't get him first.

Q It never ceases to amaze me how a man like you can find the energy to do all the things you do. You write magazine articles, books, columns, you give lectures, offer counsel, and all this aside from your regular duties as a Howard Johnson car hop. What is your secret? Most of us can't even find time to do our daily tasks.

Love is the driving force that guides our hands, our thoughts, our hearts. Love is the source from which all energy flows. Without love, man has no purpose, no meaning in his life. As I gaze through the French doors that open onto my terrace overlooking Central Park, and the sound of my stereophonic hi-fi set wafts through my seven-room penthouse duplex apartment, I know that there is love in my heart, and it is this love I have that gives me the energy to do all the things I do. Mainly, this love I have for money.

THE STORY BEHIND
THE PAINTING...77

Albrecht Von Neuman

AN ITCH TO PAINT THAT HAD TO BE SCRATCHED

ALBRECHT VON NEUMAN was only 14 when he painted the above masterpiece: "Self-Portrait of a Hot Shot Artist." But already, his sloppy brushwork, his muddy colors and his lack of perspective were obvious. Even at 14, it was obvious that Von Neuman was destined to be a lousy painter.

He was born in Garstenpfluger-Partminklachter, Germany, c. 1412, the third son in a family of five children, all the rest of which were girls. Little is known of his father, which is probably just as well. We do know, however, that Albrecht was apprenticed to a candle-smith at the age of eight, and that he soon became known as the best tallow-dipper west of Essen. In fact, his apprenticeship was not yet over when he was allowed to assume the duties of a journeyman wick-snipper.

Journals of the day tell how he became a favorite of the candle-smith to whom he was apprenticed. A big, jovial man named either Pfeiffer or Raunch, he was fond of dealing young Albrecht rabbit punches to the back of the neck and crying out, "Du bist ein dumkopf, Albrecht."

Despite his success in the candlery, Von Neuman's real interest was in Art. Art, however, had too many other things on his mind to be interested in Von Neuman. So at the age of 12, young Albrecht took up painting instead.

At the outset, he sensed that he had a real flair for portraiture, but lacked the funds to hire a model. The few who volunteered their services free soon changed their minds when they witnessed his leer as he told them that he wanted to paint them in the nude.

Thus, with no model available, he was forced, instead, to paint landscapes in the nude. He was arrested several times for doing this, and, finally, in a fit of depression, he painted his self-portrait that appears on this page.

Though he painted some 500 pictures in later life, the self-portrait remains his worst effort. The original now hangs in a grain silo near Vermillion, South Dakota.

Von Neuman had the singular honor of being the only painter of his period to be ignored by both the Grand Doge of Venice and the Duke of Antwerp. He accepted this social slight philosophically, by killing himself in 1467.

Albrecht Von Neuman's self-portrait (3¾" x 5-7/16", Crayola on flypaper) hangs in a grain silo near Vermillion, North Dakota, stupid!

KHRUSHCHEV

Ready and willing ... but unable. Full of ambition ... but still a clod. Which way do you turn when you are the brother of Nikita Khrushchev, the most powerful man in Russia? How can you hope to become a successful vodka bootlegger when the eyes of the world are always upon you? These were the questions faced by Melvin Khrushchev. In the next issue of GOOK, Mel reveals how his banishment to Siberia finally solved the problem of his rivalry with his famous brother.

* * * * *

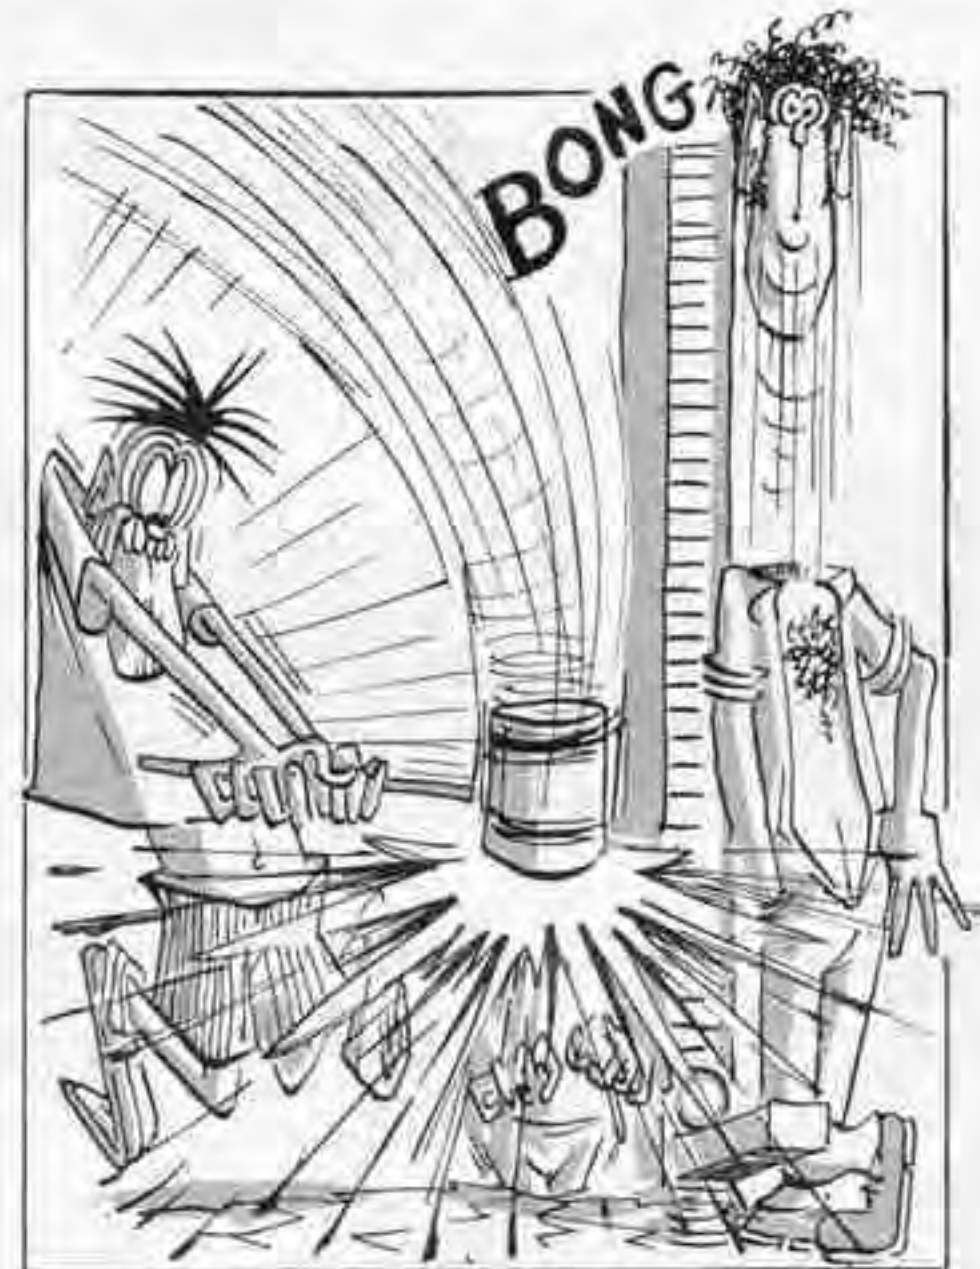

What can we expect from Costa Rica? Is this unheralded neighbor to the south merely biding its time until we all get too drunk to resist invasion? You won't want to miss Tim Cocaine's revealing story in the next issue of GOOK entitled: "Boy, Are We in a Fine Kettle of Fish."

* * * * *

Also the Kansas City Athletics tell how they never got a chance to throw the last World Series ... Industrialist Bubby Hammerfling reveals his plans for building a small economy car to sell for only $6000 ... and Dr. Claude Writher explains, a full year late, how to spot the symptoms of Asian flu. These and many more fascinating articles in the March 14 issue of GOOK, on sale April 9.

In all the World only SweatHard's Portable Oval Tub can make a bath so rewarding, so refreshing
... especially for those beady-eyed rascals in the bushes!

So if you have that compulsive urge to exhibit yourself in public by taking out-of-door baths, you really should try a portable SweatHard bathtub. You can carry your SweatHard Portable Oval Bathtub out into the fields, deep into the jungles, high up into the mountains . . . anywhere your heart desires. Just make sure there's water where you go so you can fill your SweatHard tub up, because it's no fun taking a "dry" out-of-doors bath. And most of all, make sure those beady-eyed rascals are in the bushes, because it's no fun exhibiting yourself in public if there ain't no public!
